MUST HAVE THAT FAIR.

Block organizers will go out to raise funds for concern.

The West Side directors and officers of the Board of Trade Association of Chicago, the directors in Edgelawn Association, the Douglas Park Board of Trade, all Parks of the Commercial Club, and Parks of the Commercial Association.

An enthusiastic crowd of Chicago citizens met in the Garrick theater last night to boost the world's fair for Chicago. The meeting was called to order by the president of the Edgelawn association, Lewis Max. Mr. Max and his officers want to be counted as among the first boosters for a Chicago fair of all the nations. Mr. Max was the first speaker of the evening. He said:

"I am not a speaker, but I am a booster, and I am here to boost for a fair in Chicago, and if all the other boosters will do as much as I will for the fair we will have it here. We are ready to subscribe our full share to underwrite the guarantee fund for the world's fair, and we will do it cheerfully. We have a guarantee fund of $5,000 of ours already. E. G. Cooper, who is present, suggested that a fair with a $10,000,000 guarantee fund would be better than one with a smaller guarantee fund. Every man, woman, and child who is interested in having the fair come to Chicago is willing to do his share to get it. The Edgelawn men will do their share. The Edgelawn men spoke of the arrangements of the south to an association. I spoke with a gentleman last night who said he would subscribe $1,000 for the fair, and I have a check for $1,000 which I will turn over to the fund. The Edgelawn men will do their share.

"The gate receipts of the Panama-Pacific exposition amounted to $1,000,000, which, with the other receipts from the gate, amounted to $2,000,000. Chicago ought to be able to get $2,000,000 from the gate receipts of the fair at least $1,000,000. Organizations and individuals, as well as corporations, ought to pay their guarantee fund in full. Every one of us can afford to pay $1 a month for twenty-eight months, and every organization, ought to pay their fund every year.

Mr. Max said: "All the money I put into this I expect to get back in two or three different ways. I expect to get $1,000 worth of fun. I expect $1,000 or more in increased value of property in which I am interested, and I expect to get $1,000 back in dividends. I expect to get my money back many times over, and I expect to get it back in dividends. I am willing to put my money into the fair because I am sure I will get it back."

Mr. Max then introduced Mr. Cooper, who said:

"I am in favor of the fair, and I am willing to subscribe $1,000 to the guarantee fund. I am willing to put this in the pocket of the fair's treasurer."

Boston issued in Chicago at 6 1/2 per cent. Investment securities were firm. New York local stock exchange trade heavy at previous quotations. Eastern exchanges were strong. The Chicago produce markets were generally quiet, but averaged firmer in tone. There was a moderate export business in wheat, and provisions ruled buoyant in consequence of the storm that has forced navigation to the lower lakes. An unusual activity in corn attracted much attention to the market. At one time during the day prices were 1 cent higher, but closed with a loss of 1/2 cent from the highest point. Oats were 1/2 cent higher, rye 1/2 cent higher, barley unchanged, and hogs 5 cents higher.

A Washington correspondent is authority for the statement that the president is not in favor of the proposed Chicago exposition, and will not recommend an appropriation by congress. Such a statement will give many of those who favor a world's fair here considerable food for reflection. The opposition of the administration, if persisted in, would be a serious matter, and would probably result in the defeat of the project. The people of Chicago, however, are not willing to give up the fair without a struggle, and the indications are that congress will be asked to make an appropriation. The president's opposition, if he should oppose it, will undoubtedly be based on the ground that the government should not be asked to contribute to the support of an enterprise which is purely local in its character. The argument is a plausible one, but it is not a true one. The fair is not a local affair. It is a national affair, and the government has been asked to contribute to it because it is a national affair. The people of Chicago have not asked the government to build the fair for them. They have not asked it to pay the expenses of the fair. They have not asked it to contribute to the support of the fair. They have simply asked it to contribute to the erection of buildings for the exhibition of the products of the country. The buildings will be the property of the government, and will be used for the purposes for which they were originally erected. The government will not be asked to contribute to the support of the fair. The fair will be supported entirely by the people of Chicago. One cent per mile riding has broken out between the railroads north and west of Chicago. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has given notice that it will not renew the contract with the Northern Pacific road, and will refuse to sell tickets to Minneapolis and Duluth. The effect of the cross is sure to be to drive all the business which would have been done by the Northern Pacific road to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. One of the New York papers who have been before many years back is dead. Nothing of value however, especially with such a figure as that of the world's population. The most extraordinary interest in an "extinct" article is a total way of calling over a dozen evident reports, to say about. The latest accounts are perused both contradicted on the air. There are, therefore, two many individuals in New York who believe that any sort get the expression.

One vote may swing the balance and become the epidemic count one from here to Chicago must be known with great precision by the latest news, for it is certain it will give many of those who cast a vote figure they conducted for, and failing to get which the department commanders of this and neighboring states spread the address to some army from the location to be held at Milwaukee next week. The people of the west side ought to make a note of trouble in that direction. Prior to the holiday given to the yesterday relative to keep the engine of the Washington street depot and the opening of the cable road. It was meant to get and arrest to cyclic and gravel, that no one suspect on Sam Chevalier did not mean a mistake. OPALS FROM THE ORIENT.

A CHAPTER OF NEWS BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE LIGHT OF ASIA."

Sir Edwin Arnold, the famous "Sir Edwin Pasha" and author of Secrets of Islam, to Which the Light and Beauty of the Koran Is Explained—Notes from Calcutta—The Plan of Sati—The Education of Eastern Girls—Social Customs, Current Gossip, Etc.

Sir Edwin Arnold's latest account of social doings in "the Lady's Parlor" is an entertaining one, although it is not altogether reassuring to those who look upon the Orient as the ideal home of romance and poetry. Sir Edwin is an impressionist, and his pictures of the East are not the product of a single visit, but of many years of residence and travel in the countries he describes. Here are some of his observations:
